

NO ARBITRATION FOR OPERATORS

So Says President Small of the Telegraphers Union, Who Is Now in New York.

OUT OF THE QUESTION AT THE PRESENT TIME

Says Companies Are in Worse Condition than at Any Time Since Strike Started—Western Union Defiant.

NEW YORK, August 26.—President Small of the telegraphers union declared today that arbitration of the telegraphers' strike at present is out of the question. He added that the strikers are prepared to remain out two months. He said the executive board of the American Federation of Labor will shortly consider the federation's relation to the strike. Small asserted that the companies' conditions are worse than when the strike began and that half of the Western Union force here failed to report for work after Friday, when double pay was abolished. Superintendent Brooks of the Western Union said: "Our company will have nothing to do with Small or his union. While we are willing to consider individual cases the men who struck under pressure of the agitators who engineered the situation will not be re-employed under any circumstances."

TRAFFIC BLOCKED ON GILA VALLEY

Passengers Stalled at Bowie While Washouts Are Repaired on the Line

Traffic on the Gila Valley, Globe & Northern railroad has been in a very crippled state during the last two days. Sunday morning the passenger train left here on time, but only reached a point about twenty miles from Globe. Heavy rains had washed out embankments and a small bridge had taken its leave with out notifying Superintendent Mallard. The train returned to Globe within a few hours after leaving and started out again at 5:30 in the evening, reaching Bowie at 11 o'clock. Those who were waiting at Bowie for the Globe train suffered more than the outgoing passengers. The train from the west brought a large number of people who had been spending vacations on the coast. They arrived at Bowie shortly after 10 o'clock. As is well known to the traveling public, Bowie lacks many things that go to making a long stopover anything like a pleasure and the wait until the regular time for leaving of the Globe train is not exactly conducive to good nature. The seating capacity of Bowie is somewhat limited, especially when there is considerable freight on the platform, the bench in front of the eating house is carrying a "bad order" sign and the grass in the back yard is almost imperceptible to the naked eye. Various and sundry bulletins informed the waiting travelers that the Globe train would depart at 5, 8, 11 and midnight. The train got in at 11 and it was announced that it would not leave until morning (S. P. time). Then the scramble for beds began and the supply in the railroad hotel was soon exhausted. A dozen travelers were taken to another hotel and these unfortunate arrived in Globe last night, not having been called before the train departed, some time before daybreak (Globe time). A train left Globe yesterday morning at the regular leaving hour and the returning train reached here about 11 o'clock with a very much disgusted load of passengers. The train last night was only an hour late. When asked last evening how the train service would be today, Superintendent Mallard indignantly denied that he was a weather prophet. In the meantime the poor little sixteen-candle power lamp continues to furnish the only illumination at the Globe depot.

REDMOND BALKS ON AMENDMENTS

Irish Leader Accused of Refusing to Assist Evicted Irish Tenants

LONDON, August 26.—Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the government is prepared to accept some of the lords' amendments to the Irish evicted tenants bill, whereupon Redmond, chairman of the Irish party, declined to participate in a discussion of the measure. Redmond was accused primarily of breaking his promises in failing to afford the tenants an opportunity to return to their homes wherefrom they were evicted twenty years ago. He said that the Irish must recommence strong and menacing agitation. The Irish Nationalists thereupon left the house. The house of commons appointed another committee to confer with the house of lords to see what could be saved of the mutilated measure.

AN ERROR CORRECTED

A misstatement was made in Sunday's Silver Belt regarding the sale of the Mountain View saloon by R. H. Daniel. Thomas Donovan, who is a member of the firm of Donovan, Davis & Co., who are now in possession, is a half owner in the Daniel property and Mr. Davis has taken a lease on Daniel's interest. The stock of the saloon was sold to the firm.

ACME CHANGES HANDS

H. S. Duncan, formerly deputy sheriff, and Steve Boehm, have purchased the Acme cafe and bar and are now in possession. Both have excellent reputations as business men and should do well in their new venture.

MOTHER OF NOTED MEN DIES IN CONNECTICUT

STAMFORD, Conn., August 26.—Mrs. Helen Partridge, mother of the bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Kyoto, Japan, and of William Orday Partridge, the New York sculptor, died in a sanitarium yesterday. Both her sons were present.

GLASS TRIAL IS DRAGGING ALONG

President of the Pacific States Company Is Again on the Stand Yesterday

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., August 26.—Secretary and Treasurer F. W. Eaton of the Pacific States company was recalled today at the Glass trial and cleared up the itemization discrepancy of $50,000 in the minutes of the board of directors by a statement of clerical error, pointing to the correctness of the footings. President Scott resumed the stand, and under redirect examination the prosecution recovered much of the ground lost at the morning session by contradictions wrong from Scott by Delman. It was shown, for instance, that his testimony at the former trial of Glass to the effect that Scott had not taken up his duties as president until after his return from the east six weeks subsequent to the last of the alleged bribes, was substantially true; that although he did not attend meetings of the executive committee and preside over them, these were purely formal acts and did not partake of a general management of affairs. At the conclusion of the afternoon session, Judge Lawler put his decisions off until Friday on the pending motions, for dismissal, for the setting aside of the indictments and the staying of proceedings in the other cases against Glass, Calhoun, Mullally, Schmitz, Ford, Ruef, Abbott, Martin DeSaba and Drum.

REFUSE VILLAREAL RELEASE ON BAIL

Leader of Mexican Junta in Los Angeles Held as Fugitive from Justice.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., August 26.—Ricardo Flores Magon, Antonio Villareal and Librado Rivera, the three Mexicans arrested here last week in indicted charges of conspiracy against the Mexican government, were arraigned before Justice Frederickson today and two were held in the sum of $1,000 bail on a formal charge of resisting a police officer. Villareal is charged with being a fugitive from justice and is held without bail. It is charged that he broke jail at El Paso while being held for extradition to Mexico. Justice Frederickson held court during the noon hour today in order that charges might be filed against the men before habeas corpus proceedings which they instituted could be heard this afternoon. The attorney for the Mexican vice consul stated that he would not discuss the case further than to say that the state departments of Mexico and the United States had taken the cases up. He expected papers warranting further procedure against the men to arrive from Washington within a few days. The men are held in secret solitary confinement. They are allowed to see no one excepting their attorney. Visitors were denied admittance this morning. Four Mexican women became indignant at such treatment and created a scene at the station house.

ELKS AGAIN CLIP WINGS OF EAGLES

Baseball Game Sunday Results in Another Easy Victory for the Antlered Herd.

MUCH BETTER GAME THAN THE FORMER ONE

Eagles Make One Lonely Run While the Elks Score Nine Times—Stewart Pitched Well, with Good Support.

The much-heralded ball game between the Elks and Eagles Sunday afternoon proved to be one of the best games seen on local grounds this season. Both teams had been strengthened since the previous game, and while the Eagles played much better ball, they did not stand any more show of winning the game than they did the first one. Ed Stewart, the Elks' premier slab artist, held the birds down to a few scattered hits, while Job Atkins, who did the heavy work for the Eagles, was hit more freely and at times when his meant runs, Stewart's best work was done in the seventh when all of the bases were occupied and Manager Carroll's pets were unable to score a tally.

Morawetz of Arizona, now consul at Bahia, Brazil, to be consul general at large for the district of Central South America at a salary of $5,000, succeeding Richard M. Bartleman of Massachusetts, transferred at his own request to Madrid at a salary of $2,500.

VENEZUELA WOULD KNOW NEXT MOVE

Would Like to Know What Will Follow Five Million Dollar Fine

CARACAS, Aug. 6.—El Constitution, the government organ commenting on the five million dollar fine assessed against the New York-Bermudez Asphalt pavement company for complicity in the Matos rebellion, after stating that the evidence against the company was taken mostly from the records of the case that was tried in the United States, says editorially: "It now remains to be seen if the state department of 'America' will again convert itself into a protector, defender and tutor of the adventurers who have confessed and who have been legitimately chastised by the legislatures of all the civilized nations including the United States, in which country they abound. The sentence is perfectly analogous to that now pronounced against the guilty company by the Venezuela court."

ANNOUNCEMENT OF COMING NUPTIALS

Party Given in Honor of Miss Hull, Who Is to Wed Roland Jacobs in October

Mrs. Frederic C. Alsford was the charming hostess at an announcement party for her sister, Miss Eula Hull, at her home on Hill street last Saturday afternoon. From 3 to 6 o'clock the guests enjoyed playing hearts. The five tables were arranged on the porch and in the parlor. Refreshing punch was served between games. The elaborate decorations were uniquely carried out in every detail, all suggestive of Cupid. The tally cards were heart shape, while the table markers were arrows. Gold and silver hearts were used as tallies. The parlor and dining room were artistically decorated with hearts, arrows and Cupids. From the chandelier to the four corners of the room strings of red hearts were gracefully festooned. Pepper tree berries and ferns arched the parlor windows. The prettiest effect was produced when the curtains were thrown aside, revealing the dining room. In the doorway hung Cupid with his bow and arrow in a circle of hearts. Over the center of the long table hung a large heart-shaped box covered with red silk poppies and above this was suspended a huge red tissue parasol. To the parasol were attached the festoons of hearts which were draped to the corners of the room. From inside the parasol hung a shower of hearts.

BIG STEAMSHIP TURNED TURTLE

Pacific Mail Liner Acapulco Flops Over Few Hours Before Leaving 'Frisco.

LIVES ENDANGERED BUT ALL MAKE ESCAPE

Several Compelled to Swim from Vessel—Improper Putting in of Coal Said to Be Cause—Finally Is Righted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., August 26.—The steamship Acapulco of the Pacific Mail Steamship company's Panama line, which was to have sailed for Acapulco at 9 o'clock this morning, turned turtle at its dock at the foot of Brannan street at 12:45 p. m. as she was taking on coal for her passage. Though several lives were endangered, no lives were lost. Neither Captain Trask, master of the vessel, nor the officials of the company, have given any explanation of the mishap, but the supposition is that the coal was improperly stowed. Without warning the Acapulco listed suddenly to starboard and within fifteen minutes showed her keel. As they felt the ship go over all scrambled up ladders and companionways and though a number were caught in the rush, none were hurt. Several were compelled to swim. As the vessel filled she partially righted herself and presently lay easy on her starboard side, the sea covering her main deck to a depth of from two to six feet. Fortunately, steam had not been gotten up, as the sailing hour had been changed from 1 to 5 o'clock, four hours off. The fires that had been started under the boilers were drawn by the engine crew while the vessel was listing and all danger of an explosion was averted. A lot of personal baggage was ruined and a considerable part of the ship's stores will be lost. Frye, assistant to President Schwerin of the Pacific Mail company, said that he could make no announcement because no other ship available to make the trip.

GAMBLER KILLS A SHEEP HERDER

Gets Drunk and Apparently Kills Man in Cold Blood—Placed Under Arrest

PORTLAND, Ore., August 26.—A Telegram special from Dallas says: "A telephone message from Shaviko to the district attorney gives a meager account of the killing of Tom McConnelly this morning and Thomas Hale, an alleged gambler, was arrested for the killing. Hale came into the hotel at Shaviko under the influence of liquor and flourished a revolver. The bartender ran out to call the town marshal. Two men who passed while he was hunting the marshal assert they heard Hale say to McConnelly: "I want hurt you. I have nothing against you." "Soon afterwards they heard three shots. They went to the saloon and found McConnelly dead. They declare that Hale was standing over the body with a smoking revolver in his hand. McConnelly was a sheepherder."
